

Karis Mawer

I came to Stanbridge Earls at the beginning of year 12. I joined Stanbridge School because in my last school I was told that I had dyslexia just before I started my GCSE's. My last school had really high expectations and there was only one woman who worked there that could help people with academic difficulties. This made it much more difficult for me to get help I needed in preparation to pass my exams. I came to Stanbridge Earls hoping to do A level Biology, English and Performing Arts, and luckily for me, it was perfect. I chose these subjects because they fulfil a wide selection of my interests. The subject I am most keen on is Performing Arts as I would like to do Theatrical Studies in the future at university. Furthermore there are amazing opportunities in this area at Stanbridge. When I first came, the production for that year had already been cast but I still had a brilliant opportunity to get a good part in the Shakespeare plays. This year we are putting on a production of Grease.
